Iranian, New President, Calls Assembly Back for Session

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—United Nations delegates buckled down today to the work of organizing their "catastrophe assembly," with a fight to seat Communist China only temporarily interrupted.

The assembly's new president, Nasrolah Entezam of Iran, called the assembly back into session to set up the new committees, elect their officers, and choose seven vice-presidents.

Entezam was elected late in the opening session yesterday after India and Russia waged an unsuccessful fight to get the Communist Chinese government seated in place of the Chinese Nationalists. India said it would keep trying throughout the assembly.

Taking over the presidency from Carlos P. Romulo, Philippines foreign minister, Entezam said:

"The United Nations now has to save the world from the catastrophe hanging over it. It is my hope that at the end of the assembly we can announce to the world the good news it is waiting for. In this hope, let us set to work."

Wins First Victory

The United States won its first diplomatic victory yesterday against the unprecedented move by India asking the assembly to seat what India called "New China" in place of the Nationalist Chinese government now based on Formosa.

Sir Bengal Rau was first to the rostrum after the minute of silent prayer or meditation that opened the session.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky was not far behind. He was not satisfied with the India demand and proposed two resolutions of his own, one to throw out the Nationalists, the other to bring in the Communists.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson told the assembly the final test was that 42 members of the U.N. still recognize the Chinese Nationalists and only 16 recognize the Peking regime. He ignored the Russian resolutions entirely and called for quick defeat of the Indian proposal.

This the assembly did, voting 33 to 16, with 10 countries abstaining. The Soviet bloc voted for the resolution, as did Britain, Yugoslavia, India, Denmark, Sweden, Pakistan, Norway, The Netherlands, Israel, Afghanistan and Burma.

In quick succession, Vishinsky's resolutions were voted down 33 to 10 and 37 to 11.

The assembly then adopted a Canadian proposal to let the Chinese Nationalists sit in the body until a special committee of seven recommends which Chinese group should sit in the U.N.

William Simpkins Thrown From Highway Truck by Impact of Collision

William Simpkins, 77, of Cairo, died at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, this morning at 8:45 o'clock from injuries which he suffered Monday when he was thrown from a State of New York State Thruway about five miles north of Saugerties in the town of Saugerties.

This is the first fatality in Ulster county on the new Thruway.

Coroner Michael Galella of Ulster county withheld a verdict pending the outcome of an autopsy.

Electrol Employees Quit Over Wages

All employees of Electrol Inc., 83 Grand street, but the engineers, left their jobs at about 10:15 a. m. today because of a wage dispute.

The plant, which manufactures hydraulic parts for airplanes, employs about 300.

It was reported unofficially following a meeting of the union of plant employees last week that the management had not accepted terms of a contract.

A meeting of union representatives and management was re-arranged for 1 p. m. today for discussion of differences. Management said it had "no comment" and the union representative could not be reached early this afternoon for a statement.

Yerry said he was authorized to suggest the plan following discussions in his efforts to return carpenters to work on the various Nationalists, the other to bring in the Communists.

Apple Pickers Gather Crop; 17,600,000 Bushels Forecast

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Apple pickers in Upstate New York were busy today gathering crop expected to total 17,600,000 bushels.

Government agencies reported yesterday that the harvest was well underway in western and central sections and in the Champlain and Hudson valleys.

In a summary of weather and crop conditions for the week ended Monday, the agencies also predicted an excellent grape crop in the state. It noted, however, that milk production had dropped a little below that of last year.

Acheson Thinks Talks in Next Round Will Be Fruitful

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—An early start on the actual organization of a military force to defend western Europe against Russia is foreseen by American officials here.

Their prediction is bolstered by the expected arrival tomorrow of the British and French defense ministers.

At the same time American authorities believe that decisions reached by the United States, Britain and France on measures to relax occupation controls in Germany will lead to strengthening western German ties with the allied powers and help clear the way for a German role in the projected new allied army.

The Democratic nominee announced last night he would start next Monday an intensive campaign sweep of the state. He said he planned to meet about 12,000 members of upstate Democratic county committees.

Won't Halt Election

The Democratic slate for state offices got other good news last night from the appellate division of State Supreme Court. The tribunal refused to halt the mayoral election set for Nov. 7 to pick a successor to William O'Dwyer, new U. S. ambassador to Mexico.

The action was started by the city Fusion party, which argued there had been enough time between O'Dwyer's resignation Sept. 2 and the deadline for filing nominating petitions on Sept. 9.

The contest in the traditionally Democratic city is sure to bring out a large vote, which will help Lynch and his fellow candidates.

Dewey and Hanley lauded the eight-year Republican administration in the state and sharply criticized President Truman's administration in speeches yesterday.

The council will meet again briefly within two weeks. Meanwhile Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell of Britain and French Defense Minister Jules Moch are due to consult with their cabinet colleagues, British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, on details of the proposal and it is assumed, especially on the use of tanks of the proposal and it is assumed, especially on the use of German troops.

Acheson, Schuman and Bevin wound up their conference on German control problems yesterday with a communiqué which said they intend to end the state of war with Germany; had authorized a mobile German police force of 40,000 men; would allow the Germans to send diplomatic representatives abroad; and would otherwise give them more authority both at home and abroad.

In addition, in a section written for Russian as well as German eyes, the three powers declared that any attack on western Germany or Berlin would be an attack upon them. This merely was a warning to Russia not to try any Korean-type aggression in Germany.

Mrs. Vera Haley, 594 Broadway, said today that her daughter, Laurel Clark, 21, who has been missing from home since Monday, had not been located. ### GOP Blasts Democrats In Talks

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—

Democratic candidates today looked over optimistic reports from five upstate cities, and forecast the end of Governor Dewey's Republican administration in November.

The Republicans were not worried. Dewey and Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, G.O.P. nominee for the U. S. Senate, went to New York city after blasting the Democratic gubernatorial slate and the Truman administration in separate journeys through upstate areas.

Also in New York city, Rep. Walter A. Lynch, the Democratic choice for governor, was to meet with county chairmen from western New York. He hoped they would echo the predictions of success made yesterday at a meeting of party leaders from central New York. They said Lynch would win this fall in Syracuse, Rochester, Auburn, Binghamton and Utica.

The Democratic nominee announced last night he would start next Monday an intensive campaign sweep of the state. He said he planned to meet about 12,000 members of upstate Democratic county committees.

Reds Move to Save Seoul

Caught in squeeze of two Allied drives, North Koreans are withdrawing (broken arrows) north along main highways from Pusan beachhead in effort to save Seoul, Red-occupied South Korean capital. Two-pronged Allied invasion force (A) is at Han river across from Seoul. In the southeast U. S. troops in the Taegu sector (B) have retaken Waegwan, crossed the Nakdong river west of Taegu and have driven 20 miles north of that city. Allies (C) are across Nakdong near Changnyong and have pushed beyond Masan area. Allied patrols have entered Pohang (D).

Tank Waves Give Strong Assistance

Reds Repulse First Unit of Yanks in Amphibs but Second Effected River Crossing

Awaited by Enemy

Rough Battle Seems Imminent in Streets of Seoul

Tokyo, Sept. 20 (AP)—Marines by thousands rammed across the Han river today under blistering Red gunfire and struck swiftly on Seoul.

On their first charges from the river they drove ahead four miles—half way to the Korean capital.

Powerful American tanks, ferried across the water after them, churned up sand banks and over rice paddies five hours later.

The first assault wave hit the river at dawn in amphibious tractors loaded with Leathernecks. It was repulsed by Red gunfire. The second, after daybreak and a long-range naval shelling of the Reds from Inchon made good.

The tanks rumbled southeast, bringing powerful support to Leathernecks attacking hill positions outside Seoul.

Red Koreans were fleeing before this armored vanguard of 40,000 man-armed liberation force.

Americans and their Communist enemy still were racing for possession of the capital. Communist troops rushed from the old southwest Korean front were reported streaming into Seoul along a winding secondary road from the southern.

Central Hudson Will Celebrate 50th Anniversary This Friday

800 Employees to Attend Party at Newburgh Armory

Friday night at 7 o'clock approximately 800 employees of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation will re-enact the days of 1900 in the Newburgh Armory. Dressed in costumes of long ago, the smart set will jog to the Armory in buggies or surreys behind high-stepping teams. Speeding bicycles will carry dashing young men and adventurous young ladies. Risking ridicule, a few daring souls will gamble their lives on a new-fangled machine called the horseless carriage.

The occasion for this display of old-time custom and costume will be Central Hudson's 50th Anniversary "Golden Jubilee" party. Seated at dinner on either side of a gaily decorated and gas-litened table, the Central Hudson employees will sing old-time songs, hold a costume contest, hear an address by President Ernest R. Acker, and then celebrate with a general Mardi Gras.

Central Hudson dates its official start from the formation in 1900 of the Newburgh Light, Heat and Power Company. This original Central Hudson company was the result of the union of a gas company, the Consumers Gas Company, and an electric company, the Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Heat Power Company.

Expansion of this small Newburgh Light, Heat and Power Company to the large Central Hudson of today was achieved by consolidating isolated companies, constructing modern power stations and gas manufacturing plant and improving distribution systems. Financial backing for this expansion program was largely supplied by the company's own customers who today still own almost 50 per cent of its stock.

In comparison with 1900, today the company's 96,000 electric customers enjoy an incredible diversity of comfort-promoting and labor-saving devices. To bring this standard service to a franchise area covering 2,500 square miles with a population of 290,000, modern steam generating and hydroelectric stations spin out power by the millions of kilowatts. And the soil of Texas is tapped to bring natural gas 1,900 miles to serve the company's customers.

On its 50th Anniversary Central Hudson is faced with growing demands for its services. Company experts estimate that from 1950 through 1953 there will be a 32 per cent increase in electric sales. During the same period gas sales are expected to jump by about 50 per cent.

To meet these requirements Central Hudson is now engaged in the biggest construction program in its history. During the years 1949 through 1952 $33,700,000 will be spent to expand its gas and electric services.

The major share of this money is being used for electric construction. Between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000 is being spent on construction of a steam generating station at Poughkeepsie Point on the west bank of the Hudson river.

Chilly Spots Hit Northeast Mostly

Chicago, Sept. 20 (AP)—It was summer weather over the southeast and most of the central parts of the country again today but there were some cool spots elsewhere.

The chilly areas were the northeastern states, over the northern Great Lakes region and the Pacific northwest. Temperatures early today were in the 30's in parts of northern New England. The highest reading yesterday at Duluth, Minn., was 53 while Des Moines had a midsummer reading of 89 and it was 90 at Kansas City and St. Louis. There was a rain belt only today from the upper Ohio valley westward across central parts of Illinois and Indiana into the central plains. Thunderstorms also were reported in the southern plains and in the south and central Rockies.

miles north of Newburgh. When completed in 1952 the station will have a generating capacity of 60,000 kilowatts with design that will permit construction of additional plant units as they are needed.

A new 25,000 kilowatt hydroelectric plant at the outlet of the Neversink Tunnel will also be completed in 1952. This $2,700,000 project will utilize New York city drinking water from the new Neversink Reservoir for power generation. Approximately $9,000,000 more is being allocated by the company for added electrical equipment such as transmission lines, transformers and substations.

On August 1 natural gas was introduced into the company's system and by the end of September will be in use by all the company's customers. Connecting to a main transcontinental natural gas transmission system in the vicinity of Tuxedo, N. Y., approximately 40 miles of additional transmission line together with an underwater crossing was built at a cost of $2,000,000 to bring natural gas to the company's central gas distribution center in Poughkeepsie.

The company has also begun conversion of its manufactured gas machines to make a gas similar to natural gas in heat content and interchangeable with it. The converted sets are available for operation to supplement natural gas and to provide reha-

Davis Warns City May Be Target of Enemy Bomb Load

While sensing the need of exact evacuation plans in case of an atomic attack on New York city, Sherwood E. Davis, director of Civilian Defense in Kingston, pointed out that Kingston itself may be a target of direct attack during his talk to the Lions Club Tuesday.

He said "it might be a duty of the city to except evacuees, to plan their shelter and their necessary food in case of an attack on New York city."

Davis added, however, "we cannot assume that Kingston, lying in the heart of New York city's watershed might not be subject of direct attack."

"In such an event," he said, "if the main dams were bombed, the Office of Civilian Defense would be primarily concerned with evacuating and taking care of its own population. To that end, plans are being laid to cope with that eventuality."

Davis, who said that the preparations of Civilian Defense plans and the success of execution are based on the following estimate of enemy action:

"If the enemy decides to attack the United States, it will come in the form of an atomic bomb and because of the high cost and limited supply of atomic weapons, it will be aimed largely at large military or industrial targets and areas with concentrated population."

"Therefore," Davis concluded, "we will be primarily concerned with transportation bottlenecks which will necessitate the re-routing of traffic which undoubtedly will move north and west as it is assumed that transportation through the tunnels leading outward from New York will be closed to all but military and other essential traffic."

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

MR. BELVEDERE OF RIVINGTON STREET

Last night, in the mood for conversation and kartoffelklaiki, I went a-calling on my Aunt Frieda and my Uncle Charlie.

"Your uncle, he ain't home," said Frieda as I walked into their Allen street flat. "He is having a nervous break-up, and Dr. Gitterbaum is sending him to Mr. Fertiebaum's place in Lakewood—Cathedral in the Pines."

"What brought it on?" I asked.

"Well, is like this," said Frieda.

"A couple weeks before Groundhog Day—you should pardon the expression—is coming home your uncle and announcing he is becoming a baby sitter. Every Monday night, he says, the Lerners on Rivington street is going to the theatre uptown, and Mrs. Lerner is offering him a dollar a hour and free television if he will sit with their little six-year-old boy, Wilbur.

"Well, when Charlie is coming home the first Monday night, I am naturally asking him for the five dollars, but he is telling me he ain't got it. He and Wilbur he says, is watching the wrestling on the television and betting a dollar who will win, and the little boy is winning five times consecutive.

"Next Monday, Charlie is again losing the five dollars. This time is baseball. He is betting on the Brooklyn, and the dumbhead, he is not knowing what Wilbur is knowing—that Jackie Robinson is not playing on account of because he has a busted hand.

"The third Monday, your uncle is going to the Lerners with a deck pinochle cards in his pocket—and again is losing the five bucks. Wilbur, he says, is catching on very quick, is remembering all the cards, and by 10 o'clock is trumping and melding him right in the ground.

"Well, all summer it goes like this. Every Monday Charlie is baby sitting and every Monday he is losing to the baby. And quinquaginta he is not eating so good and is hollering and banging with the doors. This little boy is making him plain crazy, and your uncle is swearing he will get even—no small fryen, he says, is making him a monkey.

"Last Monday I am figuring I will see myself what is going, and so I keep Charlie company to the Lerners. There I am, meeting Mrs. Lerner who is giving me a big howdy-doode, and explaining her husband is busy in the shop, and is inviting me I should do with to the theatre.

"She is also making me acquainted with Wilbur, and while she is putting on the hat, I am talking with him, and he is making me a very good impression.

"Later when we are coming home from the theatre the impression is changing, because Wilbur is playing on me and your uncle is a trick from a hundred years ago.

"A trick like this: When Mrs. Lerner and me are going out, the little boy is telling your uncle his mother wants he should take a bath right away, but he ain't got time because Hopalong Cassidy is in twenty minutes. So your uncle is telling him a man don't need twenty minutes for a bath, and he could do it easy in fifteen. So the little boy is betting him five dollars he can't take off his clothes, bathe himself and dress full up in fifteen minutes.

"Starting from a full tub," is saying your uncle.

"Starting from a full tub," is answering Wilbur.

"Well, as everybody knows, Charlie is a fast bather and is doing the job complete in nine minutes. And when we are coming home from the theatre he is smiling like Steeplechase. I want you should be present at the pinning-off ceremony," he says. "For taking a simple bath, I am winning five dollars cash from Wilbur."

"When I am hearing this, I am thinking the ceiling is falling down on me."

"I don't follow you," I said to my Aunt Frieda. "Why weren't you happy? Charlie finally won."

"It's simple," Frieda explained sadly. "While I am getting acquainted with Wilbur and his mother is putting on the hat, he is betting me ten dollars he can make your uncle take off all his clothes."

As Pegler Sees It

Another Vermont paper, the White River Herald, says editorially that according to Pegler, you can't draw a jury up here without getting one or two Communists on it.

But that is not what I said. I said that if Alger Hiss had got a chance of venue from New York to Vermont, the Communists, then operating under cover, would have tried to plant one of their own on the jury and that just one Communist on that jury could have prevented his conviction. They don't bother with petty cases.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—Mildness of the inventory controls put on 32 commodities this week leaves a large segment of industry unimpressed. They call the curbs vague and hard to enforce.

But another group of purchasing agents call the National Production Authority rules fair and about what was expected. They add, however, that the inventory curbs should be followed by priority rules if any real inroads on gray marketing and hoarding are to be made.

Still other industry spokesmen doubt there is much inventory hoarding of raw materials for the new controls to reduce. They point to the high rate of production in many industries and the shortages existing in recent weeks and months in many of the commodities the NPA listed.

Supplies of non-ferrous metals, for example, insist their customers haven't had a decent "minimum working inventory" for weeks. The NPA ruling would limit companies to a "practical minimum working inventory," which it defines as "the smallest quantity of material from which a person can reasonably meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his currently scheduled method and rate of operation."

Pretty Academic

Some say that's pretty academic for the large number of companies who have been getting much-needed raw materials on an allocation basis for some time, and even more academic to those who, to meet operation schedules, have had to go into the gray market to buy at premium prices.

They regard the NPA ruling as not much more than an appeal to industry not to hoard. They'd like to see a crack-down on the gray marketers, but say that these speculators are usually too fast and devious to get caught by inventory controls.

Weakness in the metals futures market is traced by some observers to the new inventory controls, but others think the favorable turn in the Korean War is the main cause of the drop in metals prices. Some scrap dealers report the market easing up for the week-end.

They concede, however, that the inventory rule should discourage whatever tendency there was to over-order scarce metals and other raw materials, and make it easier for producers to allocate commodities among users.

Shawangunk GOP Names New Officer

Michael Onusko was elected president of the Shawangunk District 3 Republican Club during its recent annual meeting and election of officers.

Others also named as unopposed officers, were Mary Andreyko, vice-president, Margaret Tempel, re-elected as secretary, and Gertrude Kamps, re-elected as treasurer.

New members named to the board of governors were Mortimer Johnson, retiring president, John Satt and Louis Lambert for three year terms.

The following standing committees were named without change: Entertainment, Annette Staff membership and hospitality, Henry Mail education, William Yandwood, publicity, Norma Jones.

Plans for a tentative card party were announced by Annette Staff who asked permission to hold the party October 14.

William Yandwood, reporting for the picnic committee, said that the September 9 affair was a complete success. He was assisted by Evelyn Johannsen, Edith Benson, Christiansen, Waits, Henry Matl and Edward Staff.

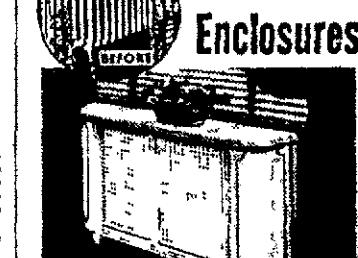

Last week's meeting was the first anniversary of the Shawangunk District 3 Republican Club. Since its organization last year, the club has grown in membership from 50 to 125 enrolled Republicans. The club meets the second Wednesday of every month in the Wallkill Valley Fire House.

Just sharpen your pencil—and there you are!

Across this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor.

Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own.

Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car?

Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering?

Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little.

Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power.

Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—or on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick.

Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast-metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace?

Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks?

And is there an automatic drive, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving?

Yes, sharpen your pencil—and there you will be, in a Buick.

Whether it's a SPECIAL, a SUPER or a lordly ROADMASTER, you'll be driving the big buy of its price class, and getting a rich bonus of driving comfort, driving thrill and "fashion-first" styling.

But you have to make the first move. You are the one who has to find out. How about starting now—with a call on your Buick dealer?

*Buick Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SUPER models.

Raschi's Arm Trouble Big Blow To Yankee Pennant Aspirations

By MURRAY ROSE
(Associated Press Sportswriter)

The American League had a brand new race going today with a bunch of fast-acting players.

New York, Boston and Detroit were only a half game apart with only 12 days to go in the tense battle for World Series spot.

The pace-setting Yankees fell within a whisper of the runners-up last night by losing to Chicago 4-3.

Detroit belted out Philadelphia, 12-4, in a day game and Boston was rained out in Cleveland to set up the tie for second place.

So here's the way the three teams stood going into today's three-fronted action.

W. L. GB TP. Wertz, Evers and Don Kolloway. The change worker.

Keller, an ex-Yankee, was making his first start in the lineup after invaluable pinch-hitting duties.

He answered the bell like an old firehorse, powering two home runs, two singles and driving in five runs. Mullin blasted out a home and double, Kryhoski whacked out two singles.

Cubs Blank Phils

Washington nipped St. Louis 5-3 in the other American League contest.

In the quiet of the National League race, Boston moved a full game up on Philadelphia by nipping St. Louis 7-6 while the Phils were elbowed, 1-0, by Chicago.

Brooklyn's Dodgers also moved up by whipping Pittsburgh twice.

Yesterday's firing brought near disaster to New York, new hope for Detroit and rest for Boston's power-armed relief ace, Ellis Kinder.

Besides losing a game they almost had won, the Yanks temporarily lost the services of Vic Raschi, their 20-game ace. The crack righthander, who pitched an inning of relief last Sunday to save a game against the Browns, was riding a 3-2 lead for 6 1/2 innings when he complained his arm "didn't feel right."

Ferrick Fizzes

Tom Ferrick, a demon rescue worker until recently, failed in the clutch again. Chico Carrasquel nicked him for a single and Gus Niarhos, the former Yankee, doubled him to third. With two out Nelson Fox blasted a triple to center to drive in the tying and winning runs.

The Yanks had gone ahead 3-2 on Joe DiMaggio's 31st home run and Yogi Berra's 24th bigger, the latter's a two-run blow. Chicago's southpaw Bob Cain yielded only four hits.

In Detroit where Red Rofe reshuffled his lineup, the Tigers' spirits soured. Hoping to get more attack in his lineup, Rofe sent in Charlie Keller, Pat Mullin and Dick Kryhoski to replace Vic Wertz, Evers and Don Kolloway. The change worker.

Keller, an ex-Yankee, was making his first start in the lineup after invaluable pinch-hitting duties.

He answered the bell like an old firehorse, powering two home runs, two singles and driving in five runs. Mullin blasted out a home and double, Kryhoski whacked out two singles.

Cubs Blank Phils

Washington nipped St. Louis 5-3 in the other American League contest.

In the quiet of the National League race, Boston moved a full game up on Philadelphia by nipping St. Louis 7-6 while the Phils were elbowed, 1-0, by Chicago.

Brooklyn's Dodgers also moved up by whipping Pittsburgh twice.

Yesterday's firing brought near disaster to New York, new hope for Detroit and rest for Boston's power-armed relief ace, Ellis Kinder.

Besides losing a game they almost had won, the Yanks temporarily lost the services of Vic Raschi, their 20-game ace. The crack righthander, who pitched an inning of relief last Sunday to save a game against the Browns, was riding a 3-2 lead for 6 1/2 innings when he complained his arm "didn't feel right."

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children

FOR DAUGHTER

A protesting daughter writes: "Mother thinks I should meet my date at our front door with my coat over my arm, all ready to leave. She says it's absolutely the height of inconsiderateness on a girl's part to make a boy sit with the family while she goes and gets ready to leave. I think—if I did this—that he'd think I was ashamed of my family!"

I think your mother is right in asking that you be ready to go out with him when he comes, but this does not mean that you should be waiting at the front door and that he should not come into the room where the family is gathered to fetch you. He greets them and you say good night and promptly go!

Omitting Clerymen and Wife
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to invite the minister and his wife to my wedding and reception when she is a complete stranger and he only known impersonally?

Answer: It is not only proper to invite him verbally, but it would be very discourteous to omit him. It is true, however, that if his wife is unknown to you, it would not be expected of you to send her an invitation.

Replaced Wedding Ring

Dear Mrs. Post: Please advise me about replacing a lost wedding ring. Should the new one have the same marking as the original one, or must it be something different?

Answer: In my opinion it should be as nearly as possible a reproduction of the lost one.

Restaurant Behavior

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it polite for a man to leave his restaurant table and go across the room to talk with friends? He left the lady with him sitting there by herself.

Answer: This would be very discourteous and would be permissible only if he had an important message that could be given briefly.

Many questions are asked about cocktail parties—the invitation and what to serve. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-26, gives full details for cocktail parties. LOWLANDS RIDING CLUB OF KINGSTON

First Horse Show Held in Kingston in 16 Years

Landscaping Expert
Is Guest Speaker at Ulster Garden Club

The Ulster Garden Club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. John Matthews in Richmond Park, with Peter Von Melee of the Poughkeepsie Nurseries giving a continuation of last year's talk to the club on background planting and landscaping. He stressed the importance of the planting of shrubs not only for the beauty of their blossoms in the early spring, but later, as autumn approaches, for an even greater beauty of foliage and colorful fruit.

He brought many fine specimens of the shrubs to illustrate his talk. He was served with Mrs. Harold King and Mrs. Gerard Betz pouring. The October meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., on Albany avenue.

Grange News

Crusade for Freedom is well under way this week throughout our state, our nation and wherever there may be people who feel as we do: that the rights of men stem from their equal birth under God, and who are willing to resist aggression and tyranny wherever they appear on earth. Specifically, the program calls for the signing of a scroll, hundreds of thousands of which will be written testimonials of free peoples to be made a permanent part of a Freedom Shrine at Tempelhof Airdrome in Berlin. Featured here will also be a ten-ton replica of the Liberty Bell, "that this World, Under God, shall have a New Birth of Freedom."

Henry D. Sherwood, Master of New York State Grange, has been chosen a regional N. Y. state director. Gen. Lucius D. Clay is national chairman, with international headquarters in New York city.

Cold storage food products in New York warehouses are likely to give a definite clue to our food reserves and for those who enjoy sharpening pencils to figure out economy, an important index. According to the September 1 report of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets the supply is greater, all across the board than a year ago, in dairy products, poultry, fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables. Meat supplies are about the same.

We feel this bears out our contention here a few weeks ago when we predicted that our farmers would experience high prices for the goods they have to buy (which is squeezing them harder each day) long before there will be any comparable raise in what they can get for the goods they produce. Surpluses are not likely to disappear so rapidly, here and abroad, as they have in previous wars. That is why we are seeing a hesitancy to invoke price controls. Do not, however, be lulled into any false sense of security, for neither is there any attempt in sight to keep wages from spiralling.

State sessions at Elmira last of October promises to hit a new high in attendance and a first rate program is shaping up. It has not been released in its entirety as yet. Interest, however, is shaping up in the Grange Bread Contest awards. The expensive array of prizes will be on display in the lobby of the convention headquarters hotel.

Artists Discuss Need

For New Facilities

Woodstock, Sept. 20.—During the meeting of the board of the Artists Realty Company, Inc., Saturday afternoon at the Woodstock Art Gallery, the principal discussion centered around the need for a bathroom inasmuch as Woodstock now has its own water supply.

Belmont Towbin, chairman of the stock sales committee, presented for approval a letter of appeal for the sale of stock shares in the gallery, which was approved. The letter has now been circulated among the business people of Woodstock with the hope that many will cooperate and purchase at least one share of stock.

Other improvements to the building which were discussed, were the need for a new roof and the painting of the building.

Those present at the meeting were Albert Heckman, Florence Webster, Rodney Lethbridge, Mrs. Carl Eric Linden, Norbert Heermann, Mrs. Helen Martin, Belmont Towbin and Mrs. Susan Barron.
